The 1982 Claw
East Davidson High School
Volume XXII

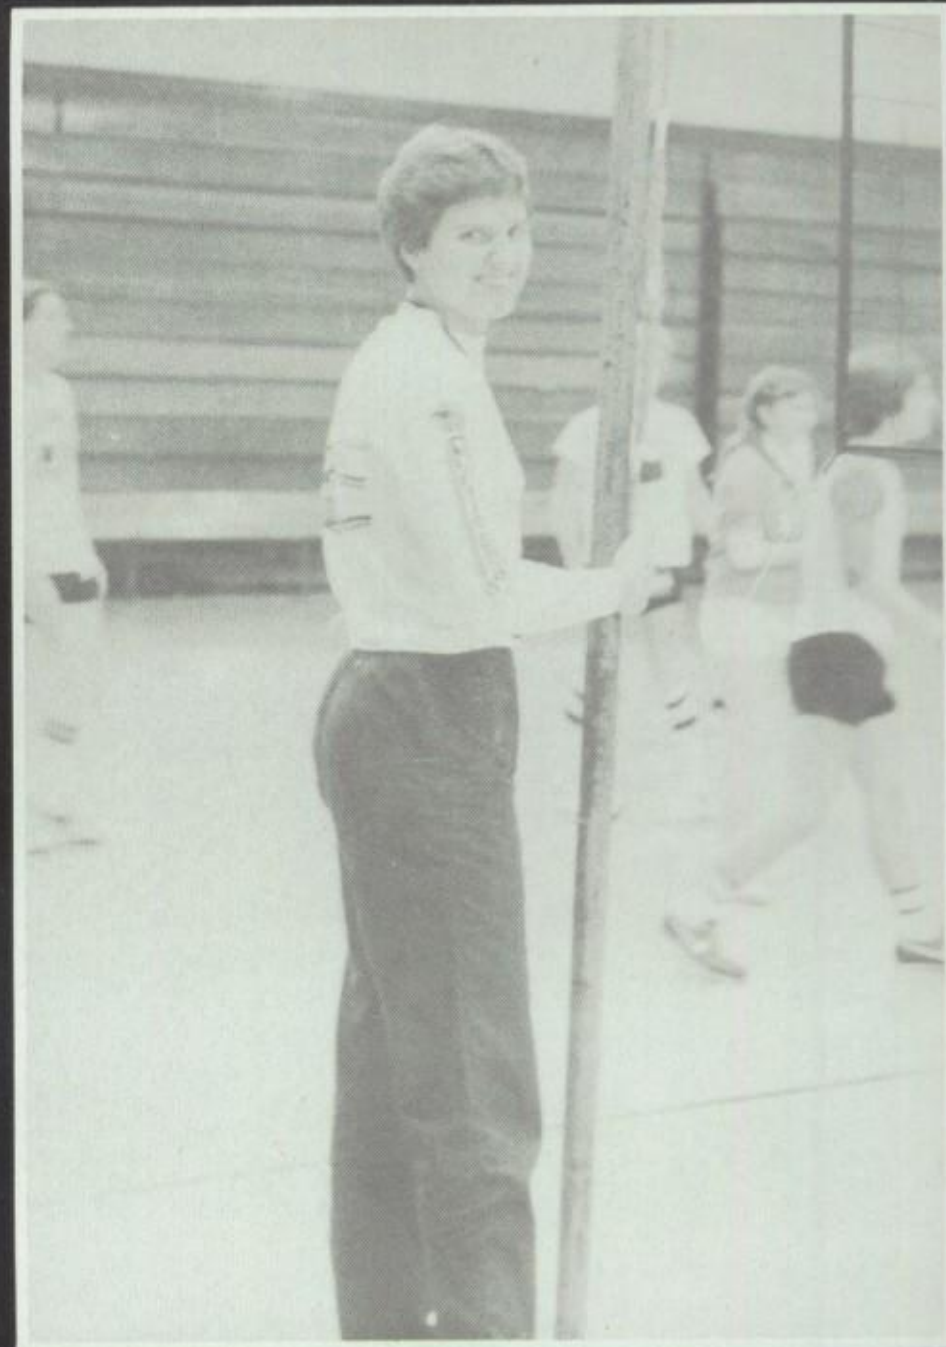

Advertisements — Pages 182-221

A TRUE "GOLDEN" EAGLE

Throughout the conference she is known as one of the best coaches in her league, but throughout the school she is known as the helpful and energetic person that she is. One sees her rushing around the halls always busy and on the go. She is a person who has been a true eagle ever since she first came to East as a student. This lady is greatly appreciated for the hard work and extra time she has shown. She is loved by her athletes and students for her knowledge and ability that she shares.

So, in appreciation for your ture, golden devotion to East Davidson, we, the annual staff, would like to dedicate the 1983 Claw to you, Mrs. Wanda Cline, because you are more than just a teacher or a coach, you are a friend.

SUMMERTIME FREEDOM . . .

The Best Kind!

What did Eagles do in the summer when school was finally out? What about those three months that were not spent at a desk racing their brains? Life could not possibly end when school let out and it didn't. Summer was the time when life began!

Some East Davidson students chose to broaden their horizons by attending various camps and workshops. The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders traveled to UNC-Charlotte, while the colorguard and a few band members journeyed to Winthrop College in Rock Hill, SC. Time was spent sharpening skills, discovering new ideas, and learning new routines. Shaving cream covered doors, blaring stereos, hair-dryers, and ringing telephones were all too familiar sights and sounds at summer camp. After a week of hard work, campers were actually eager to return to good ole Thomasville for some decent food and Absorbine Jr. This summer Bob Bowser was chosen to attend Governor's School at St. Andrews College while Christy Moody attended Girl's State at UNC-G.

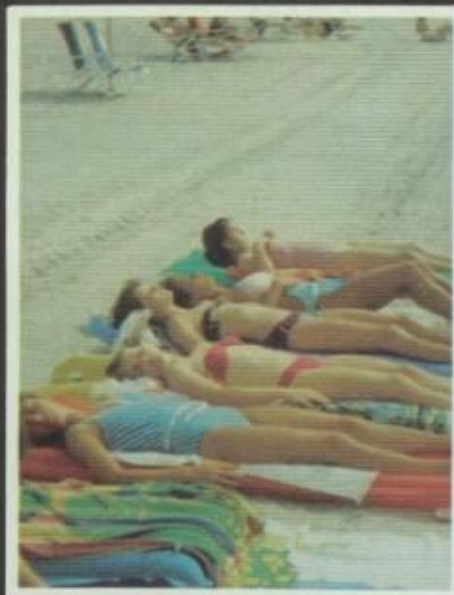

Almost everyone travelled to the coast this summer, whether with friends or family. Trips to Myrtle Beach with "friends only" proved to be the most exciting. Kids basked in the sun, cruised the strip, and formed exciting new relationships, mainly with members of the opposite gender. Nice, cold beverages to sip while on the beach were essential for the perfect vacation.

Lake parties and road trips were the most prominent form of nighttime entertainment for students during the summer. Other past times included Putt-Putt, four-wheeling, and, of course, standing around at McDonald's, watching the world go by.

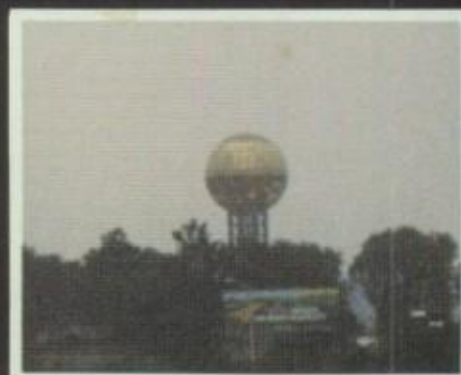

Unfortunate teenagers were forced to WORK all summer in unbearable conditions with uncooperative bosses. Others took trips to the World's Fair or simply took it easy in the back yard or by the pool. From any point of view, the summer of '82 was definitely a winner.

EVERYBODY'S WORKING FOR . . .

Friday's mean fun at pep rallies for Yvonne and Tracy.

When students returned to school after a heavy-duty weekend, the halls were filled with hot gossip of who dated whom, what happened at the party, and who got grounded. When it was time for class, the heads hit the desks. Students emerged with red spots on their heads and sleep in their eyes.

Tuesdays proved to be worse than Mondays since there were no rumors to spread. Wednesday were known as Hump Day. It was a halfway point — two down and two to go. When Thursday arrived, the anticipation sparked. Then, AT LAST, Friday got here! Talk of weekend plans filled the air, maps to parties were distributed, and people went wild. Finally, the 3:10 bell rang and the students were free for two glorious days!

THE WEEKEND!

On Friday afternoons when the 3:10 bell finally rang, thoughts were turned away from schoolwork until Monday morning. Cars raced out of the parking lot, exceeding the 10 mph speed limit by criminal rates. Everyone was excited and relieved, perhaps, because freedom was here at last.

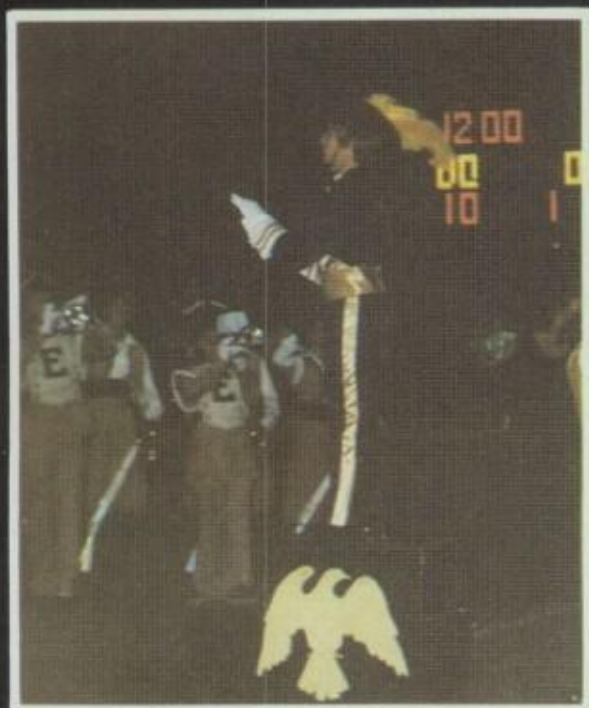

On Friday nights, the decision of what to do was an easy one to make — go to the ballgame or go to work. Some had no choice while a few unfaithful Eagles cruised the town or stayed home. After the game, it was off to Pizza Hut or McDonald's, depending on how much money was in the old wallet.

Saturday mornings were for sleeping in or heading for deer country, depending on which sex one happened to be. By mid-afternoon, it was time to get up and get on the phone to make plans for the evening. After the conversation, it was time for a shower and some food. By the time that was finished and mom stopped griping because you haven't done anything all day, it was time to go out and paint the town red.

Saturday night was the time for parties, and if one was going on, that's where most East Davidson students could be found. On the off weekends, McDonald's served their 10 billion as customers watched the world go by or maybe took a trip to Booger Holler. Lucky few had dates.

On Sundays, some found the strength to go to church in the morning, for others it was "recovery day." Lunch at Grandma's was always well-greeted. Afternoons were spent riding around or doing the homework that that ogre of a teacher gave you to do over the weekend. Some teachers even had the nerve to give a test on Monday. A little time spent uptown or maybe at a movie topped off the weekend on Sunday night, but everybody had to be home early because we all had to be in our places with bright shiny faces at 8:12 Monday morning.

Students suddenly noticed when August rolled around that summer break was over, and school was ready to begin. All those vacations at the beach, watching the waves roll in, had come to an end until next summer. Every one came to school with a bright new eagerness to learn. Although no one looked forward to all the work, each student knew the importance of learning all they could. Seniors realized that this year would be the last of their high school career. They felt sad that their school years were ending, but they felt like they had accomplished a great deal. Juniors were excited about a lot of first time things happening for them. Class rings and prom time were just two exciting events that occurred. Sophomores were just beginning to get settled into the routine at East Davidson. They were grateful that their freshman year was over and were looking forward to getting more involved. Freshmen were half scared but yet excited about the change from Brown Jr. High to East Davidson High. Each freshman realized the adjustments that were to be made and finally settled into their new home. Most high school students hoped that these years would be some of the best years of their lives. Events that occurred throughout the school year for the entire student body made school more interesting and fun. Still, the students realized that school was a place of knowledge.

Good Friends Forever!

You have had the best times anyone could have, you have also shared the worst times, but you do not remember as many of those. You have grown together along with the friends you have grown up with. You also met new people and became close.

As a freshman you may have found that "Someone Special" with whom you shared your high school years. You became very close to your friends and classmates during the few years spent at East.

The hardest part of high school was not the homework or even a hot sweaty practice. It was the fact that graduation came too soon, and special friends had to part to continue their separate lives as adults.

TRICK OR TREAT!

Fright Night

October 31st. It was like any other day. The average person did the average things. As the sun went down and the wind began to blow gently, a mystical spirit filled the air. It was Halloween. Soon the streets were filled with ghosts, ghouls, and witches as little ones went from door to door trick or treating. The supermarkets had long lines full of customers with eggs and toilet paper as older ones prepared for more tricking than treating. Some students decided to view Halloween III just to get into the spirit of things. The haunted trail, sponsored by the band, began its tours for those brave souls who dared to enter.

This was not the only time of monsters. East's halls were haunted on Oct. 28 when the Golden Quill staff sponsored a costume contest. The special goblins who received prizes were Spookiest — Travis Tart, Goriest — Jimmy Adams, Most Original — Brian Miller, Most Authentic — Kristi Pierce, Best Fantasy Character — Kevin Sink, Best Faculty Costume — Mrs. Rogers, and Best Over All Costume — Kelly Varner.

Isn't it great that people never grow too old for Halloween?

THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT!!!

Despite the rising cost of living, people still found a way to be entertained. Whether it was television, records, concerts, stereos, or the theatre, the public managed to dish out the money.

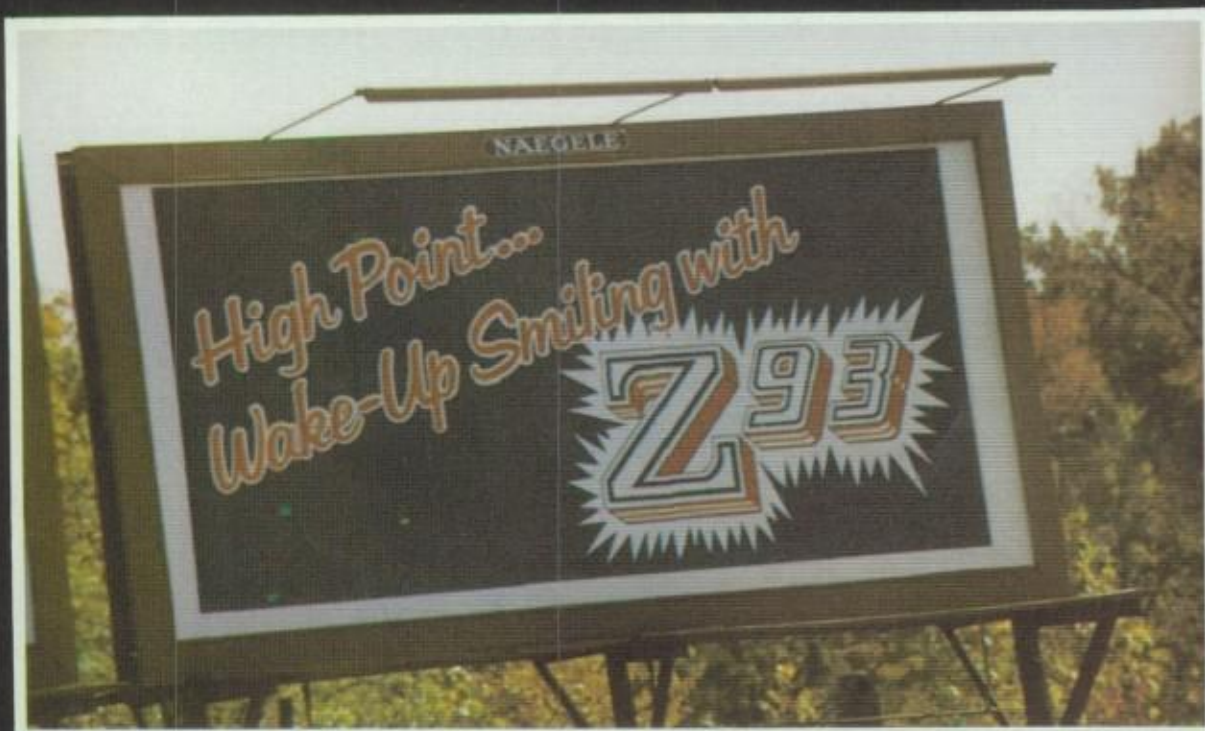

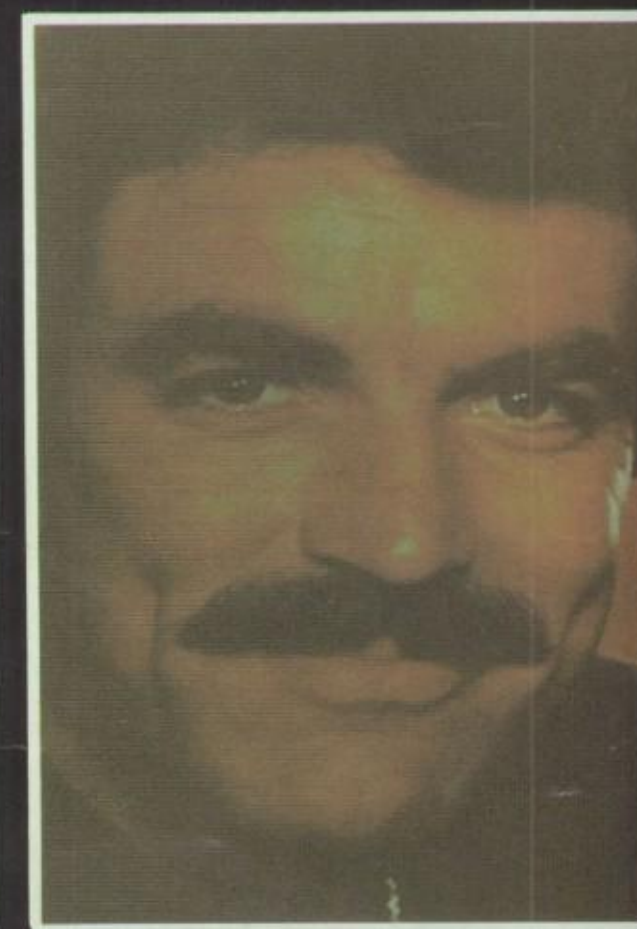

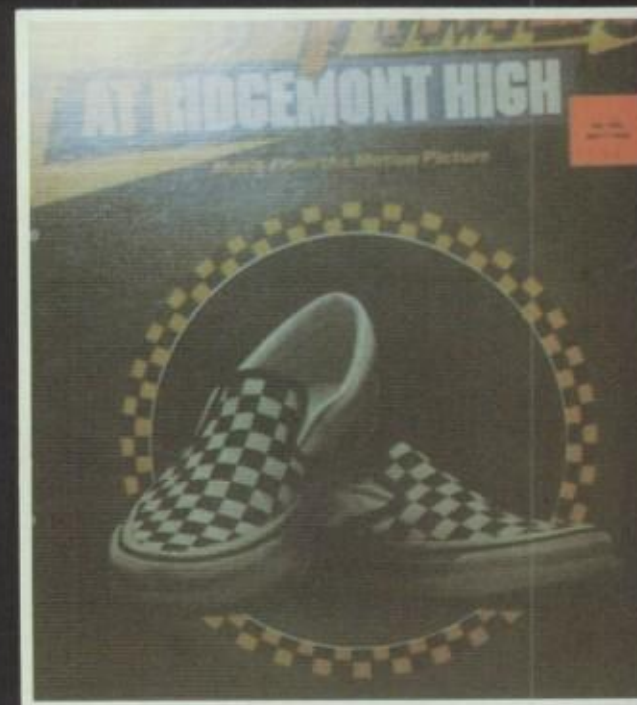

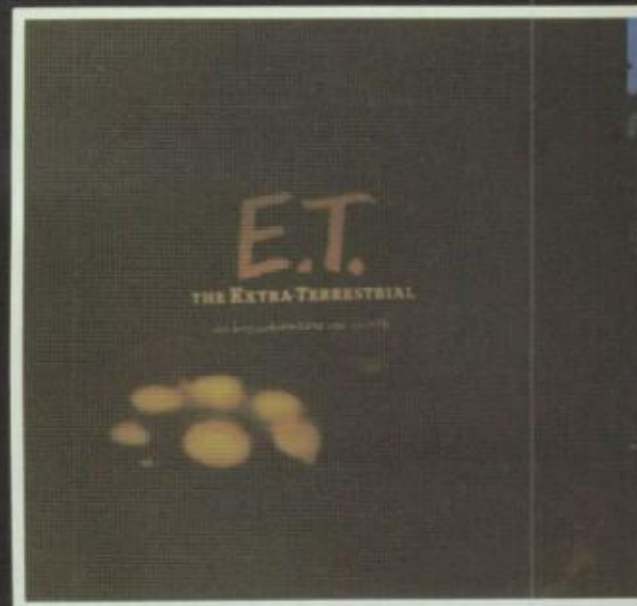

On the silver screen, E.T. was by far the favorite motion picture. The cute little creature with the big blue eyes won everyone's heart. Friday the 13th Part III terrorized everyone with Jason's return, this time in spectacular 3-D. On the mushy side we had An Office and a Gentleman which was a box office smash. For people who loved to laugh, there was Fast Times at Ridgemont High, the movie about high school life that hit very close to home.

When one's wallet was empty, the good old TV was fired up. Magnum P.I. was still a favorite with the ladies as gorgeous Tom Selleck proved once again that he is perfect. Dynasty was the favorite night-time soap as General Hospital still held on to first place during the day. A new show called Square Pegs aired in September and proved to be a definite winner.

In the world of music, REO Speedwagon, Van Halen, Crosby, Stills and Nash, John Cougar, Heart, and Fleetwood Mac, among others, gave us our money's worth in Greensboro. These artists and many others turned out quite a few winning albums and top singles. Newcomers like Asia came in with a bang and it looks like they're here to stay. Of course, the old favorites, and still the best, like Springsteen, Skynard, the Doors, and the Stones were as popular as ever. Radios were tuned in to Z-93 or FM 107 for great music.

These things help to make life more enjoyable and pass away time. Trends and styles come and go but 1982 was a year to remember. And that, my friends, is entertainment!

SAY WHAT?

"We print anything!" is a common sales pitch used in T-shirts stores everywhere. A T-shirt is one of the most popular ways a person may freely express himself. However, t-shirts are not the only way. If a person is really hung-up on a subject, they may use bumper stickers, license plates, writings on the walls, or even a beer mobile.

THE GREATEST SHOW

Are you getting cold, Donna?

Homecoming week 1982 started off Monday with "Burn the Raiders Day." Everyone was "decked out" in Red. Tuesday, on the way to school, some students and teachers may have gotten funny looks, for it was "New Wave Day." Many of the students and a few teachers were dressed in punk outfits. "I Love the Eagles" was the theme for Wednesday, also it was the day of Mock Homecoming. Todd Byerly, escorted by Teresa McGuire, ("Jack and Diane") was crowned Mock Homecoming Queen. "No Sweat Day" was the theme for Thursday. Students and teachers were dressed in sweat suits. The Sophomore/Freshmen team won the Powder-Puff football game by the score of 34-12 which was the highlight of Thursday. Friday started off with the Homecoming Parade followed by a very successful pep rally.

The day did not end at 3:00, for that night the Golden Eagles faced the Red Raiders from Denton. After the Eagles beat the Raiders 20-6, at 10:30 the cafeteria doors opened to the band INFINITY. The walls were covered with circus activities. The theme for the 1982 Homecoming Dance was "The Greatest Show on Earth."

As the dance ended at 12:30 A.M., it also concluded the week's activities. The festivities were over, but the fun and memories will be remembered forever.

THE HOMECOMING COURT OF 1982

What does it mean to be chosen as a representative for the homecoming court? Definitely it is a honor as any of the fourteen girls chosen for the 1982 Homecoming Court could tell you. The representatives were SENIORS — Lori Byerly, Leigh Ann Gooch, Susie Kinley, Valicia Lambeth, and Annette Waisner; JUNIORS — Gina Garrett, Tina Price, and Ronnia Westmoreland; SOPHOMORES — Stephanie Bell, Dawn Hill, and Yvonne Horne; FRESHMEN — Tammy Brown, Misty Fuller, and Ginny Norris.

This year, instead of the girls riding in cars, they walked through arches made by the specialty corps. The five seniors awaited anxiously for the announcement of the 1982 Homecoming Queen. When the name was finally announced, it was Valicia Lambeth that gave a shrill of delight.

TRÉS CHIC!!

In 1982, unless one went to High Point Central, the prep look took a back seat to a wilder, yet more feminine look for girls. While names like LaCoste, Lauren, Vanderbilt, and Aigner still made the grade, prairie skirts and ruffled blouses worn with cowboy boots, or sweaters with dots and stripes in bold colors were at the top of the class. Earthly colors like maroon, olive green, and shades of brown were very popular. Good old Levi's were still a favorite, worn with blouses or sweaters.

As for the guys, whom one could tell weren't going to a fashion show, jeans and t-shirts remained the favorite. A few fashion-conscious males donned Polo's, Saddlebreds, and Gators with their Levi's. For others, these were only clothes to wear on a date or because Mom said so.

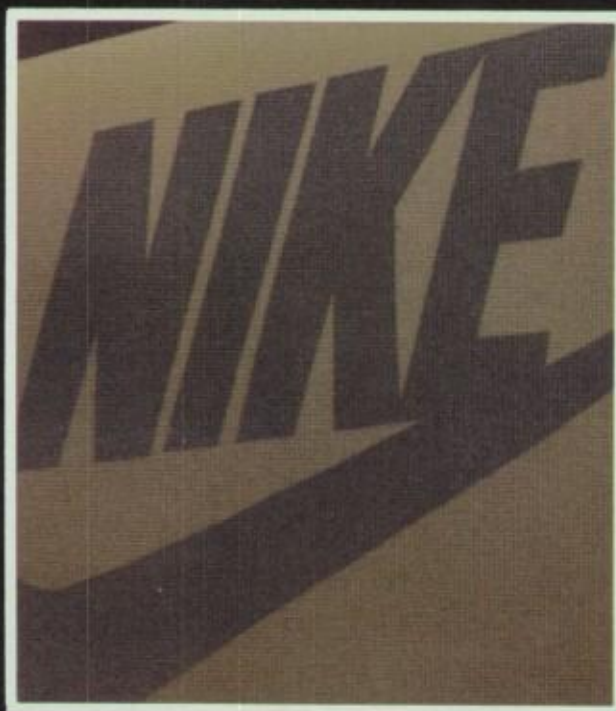

Very popular this year to both guys and gals, was the Members Only jacket. These came in a wide assortment of colors from silver to teal blue. Putting on these and ditching the cardigan sweaters moved us one step closer to a new look for the 80's.

NAME THAT FACE

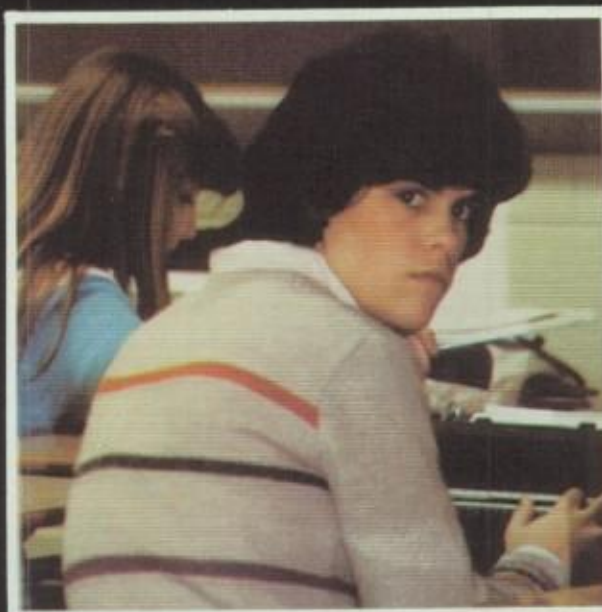

Expressions, we see them everyday, yet we don't realize their importance. This one tiny little thing affects our lives constantly. Without them, people would not be able to see our true emotions; however, there are times we want to disguise them. Remember the time you stayed up all night studying for a test and then failed it the very next day, or the time your boyfriend/girlfriend broke up with you and the way you felt. Your feelings came through in your expression.

No matter what time of the day it is or where you are, you have some kind of expression on your face. Expression is defined as "a showing of feeling or character." It is this feeling or character that lets other people know how each of us react to a particular situation. This "feeling" reveals our inner selves, and that is the one that needs to be shown through all others.

THE 1982 QUEENS

Each year the Senior Class selects six young ladies to represent them during the course of the year. These girls work hard to uphold their titles and make the students of East Davidson proud of them. They participate in pageants and represent our school in area parades as well.

Being selected as a queen will always hold a special place in the hearts of these girls, and the memories and good times will never be forgotten.

The Senior Queens selected by the graduating Class of 1983 are Valicia Lambeth — Davidson County Representative; Susie Kinley — Miss East Davidson; Lori Byerly — Miss Merry Christmas; Sherri Smith — District Tournament Representative, Annette Waisner — Miss Veterans Day.

JUNIORS

Juniors are up on top!

Upon entering the eleventh grade, a student encounters various differences from his previous ten years of school. This student, recognized as a junior, assumes a distinct responsibility and a characteristic of leadership. During the junior year, one achieves goals which results in recognition and awards that he did not receive during the years of an underclassmen. The displaying of the class ring on his hand, enables the junior to reveal the pride of finishing ten years of school and the expectation of completing the remaining two years. The junior also has the opportunity to attend the Junior-Senior Prom. Although opportunities and experiences fill the junior year, one realizes the importance to enjoy and make the junior year his best year of high school.

— Lisa Worley

Far right: Junior Power!

"When we think about juniors, we think about doughnuts. Being a junior was a lot of responsibility. Our junior year was one that we all had been waiting for ever since we were freshmen. This was the year that we all would be able to go to the Jr. and Sr. Prom, we all would have our driver's licenses, and we would get our class rings. The year was a promising year for all of us. I feel that our junior year was one that we will never forget."

To be a junior means that one encounters such things as the PSAT, class rings, the prom, doughnut sales, and having your driving license. Also, being a junior means that you have a feeling of integrity. People look up to you instead of you looking up to other people for advice.

Being a junior means that you will get that coveted letter jacket you have worked so hard for!

Also, it means that only one year away is one of the most important things in your life . . . GRADUATION — Ronnie Russell

High school is like a ladder. Each year is one step closer to graduating into the world of tomorrow. Being a sophomore is a great privilege and experience. The sophomores of today are the leaders of the future.

Sophomores seem to be more like a middle class — not the youngest and not the oldest. Although sophomores are in the middle, a lot of great things happen and many greater things are expected to happen in the future. Experience of the past nine years has given sophomores knowledge which will help in the future.

David Hughes

Doug Ingay

Sophomores are not just part of the crowd but stand out in a special way. They no longer have to settle for following in the juniors' and seniors' footsteps, but now may be a part and set examples themselves. Sophomores do not have to worry about being left out of activities and such, because now their name "sophomore" means they belong.

"Being a freshman is something that should be enjoyed because it comes only once. The upper classmen pick on you and joke with you, but it's only because they recognize you. It seems to be their way of saying, 'Hello.' People have told me that the freshman year is the best high school year. I think all the freshmen this year will understand why we are picked on, because it's our way of being welcomed."

— Wendy Kindley

"To be a freshman in high school is great. I like being a freshman. It means I'm in the ninth grade and new in high school. We, the freshmen, do get treated different at first and that is all right. I'm proud to be a freshman at East Davidson and I will be twice as proud to tell anyone that."

What is it like to be a freshman? Well, that's a hard question. The nightmare of most is seniors' class rings, stacked lockers, etc. Being a freshman is not as bad as everyone says. I am proud to be a freshman because I can hold my head up high and say, "Hey, look at me. I'm a freshman at East Davidson." Even though I like being a freshman, I still would rather be an upperclassman.

FRESHMEN FER SURE

"Freshmen must make a place for themselves which sometimes is difficult to do. At first, it was awfully confusing. I think every freshman got lost at least five times. Now it is becoming easier and better as the year goes on. Being a freshman is not all that bad. Once the confusion is gone and you come back to your natural senses, it's not bad at all. It's just as hard as you make it. I'm proud of being a freshman and I am looking forward to the years ahead at East."

FACULTY

WE'LL NEVER FORGET . . .

Sometimes a student's life becomes a pattern. We often take for granted the people around us. It usually takes a dose of realism to remind us just how valuable our friends and loved ones really are.

To every student who had the joy of knowing him, Clarence Snider was an individual who could never be replaced. His unique personality and subtle way of letting us know he cared, earned him a special spot in our hearts. We all loved him and we will never forget him.

Virgie Snider also had her own way of communicating with us. She was always around, pushing a garbage cart in front of a bright smile.

We regret the loss of two of our favorite people. One left by choice, the other by reasons we could not control. To Virgie and the memory of Clarence, we would like to say one final "We love you."

Far right: Virgie kidding around with Frankie.

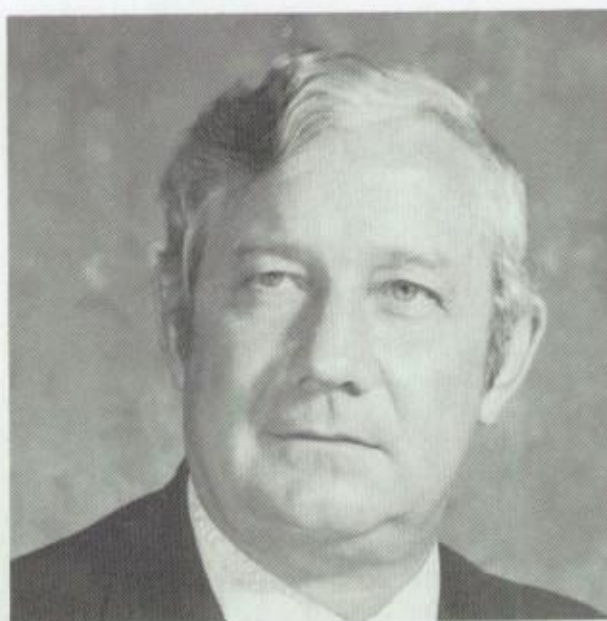

BACKING US UP.

Our school is backed by a great crew of superintendents. We would like to thank these people for always being behind us in everything we do.

THEIR ADVICE MAKES EACH DAY GOLDEN

Jane Blair

Dan Ward

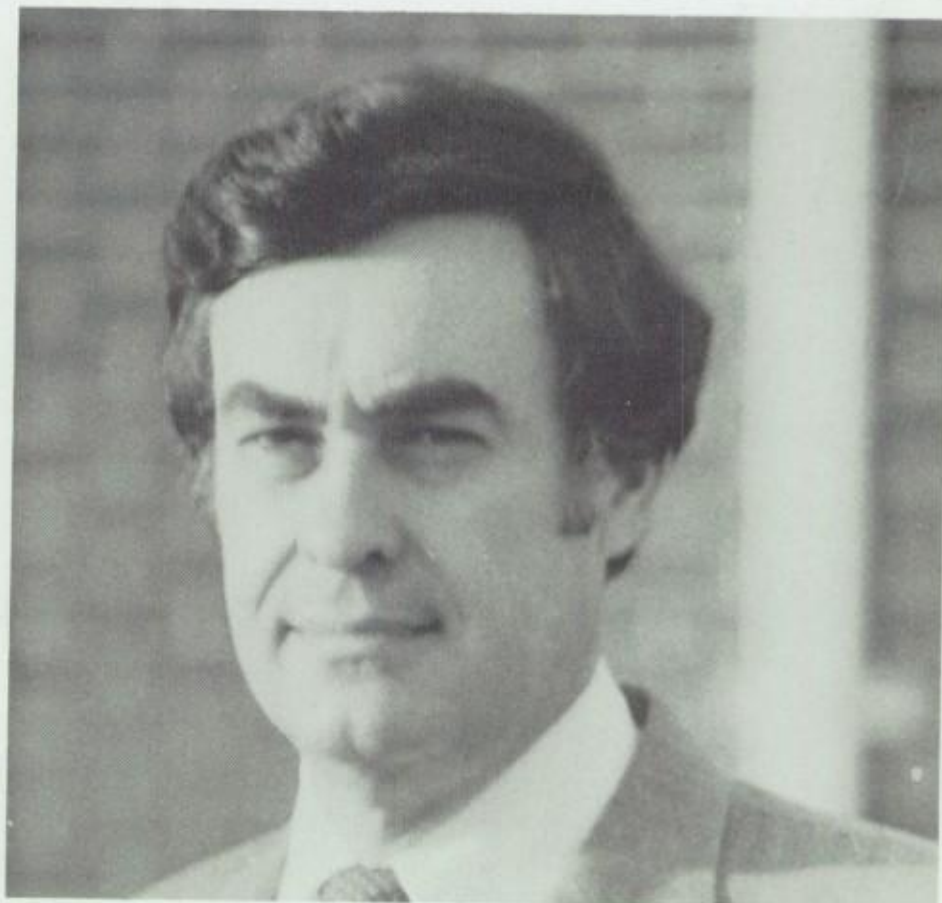

Wayne Sowers — Chairman

As the new year approached, the new Advisory Council started its 1982-83 year with many creative ideas for East Davidson. They worked hard and participated in all of the school's many activities. When there was a need or a problem, they were there.

Doris Grubb

THE GOLDEN VOICE OF THE STUDENTS

As the new year slowly approached, the time came for student council officers to be elected. This was the time for some heavy campaigning. Halls, plastered in posters, shouted, "Vote for me! Vote for me!" Candy was flying everywhere, and everyone wanted a piece of it and of the action.

To run for an office, one had to meet several requirements. These included an average of 86 or higher, a good attitude, and the ability of a leader. One had to be willing to put our school above all.

The Student Council has always active, and this year was no exception. A blood drive, the Christmas Dance, and two scholarships for deserving seniors were only a few of the many events the Student Council sponsored. Through Christmas, they used their spare time to go Christmas caroling and work on community projects. They also attended a Student Council session on October 8th to get some ideas on how to keep East Davidson the best.

THE SILENT VOICE

Band Boosters

This has been a real super year with the band. The band parents were very responsive and cooperative. They made many good suggestions for the band. The meetings were warm and useful, and the students really enjoyed the fellowship and banquets. But seriously the band boosters really don't mean much without a good band to support and this year East Davidson had the BEST! Mr. Kiefer and Mrs. Smith were very cooperative. Officers for 1982-83 were President — Don Craft, Vice President — Dale Hicks, Secretary — Janie Ellis and Treasurer — Shirley Fuller.

Athletic Boosters

The Athletic Boosters supported the athletes in every way possible. They bought equipment and sponsored banquets for the athletes. This year they bought over $7,100 worth of equipment and helped to pay for transportation to the away games. They paid part of their money for letter jackets. They built a ticket office for football games and are getting ready to do some work on the football stadium. The boosters also supplied most of the food and snacks for the players' football camp. They raised most of the money for this by selling items from the concession stand at the games. Officers for 1982-83 were President — Glenda Westmoreland; Vice President — Lynn Hicks; Secretary — Lu Hepler; and Treasurer — Evelyn Weisner.

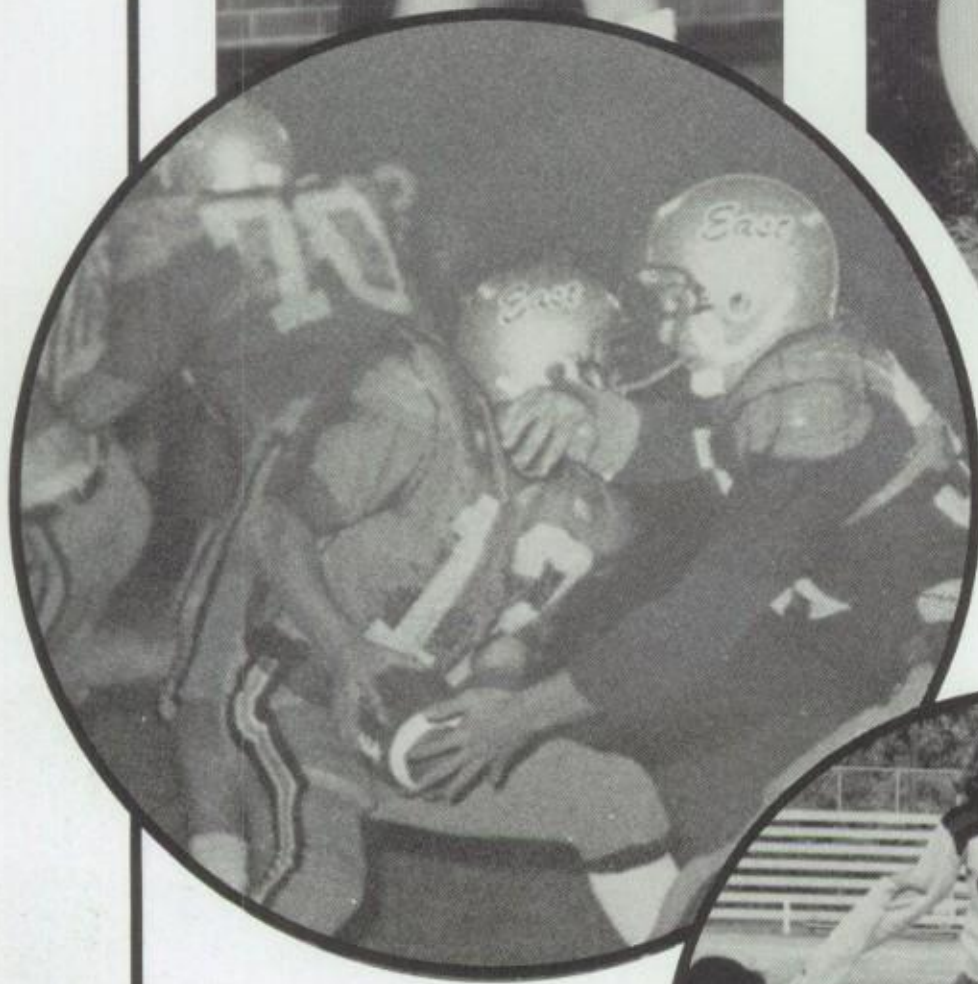

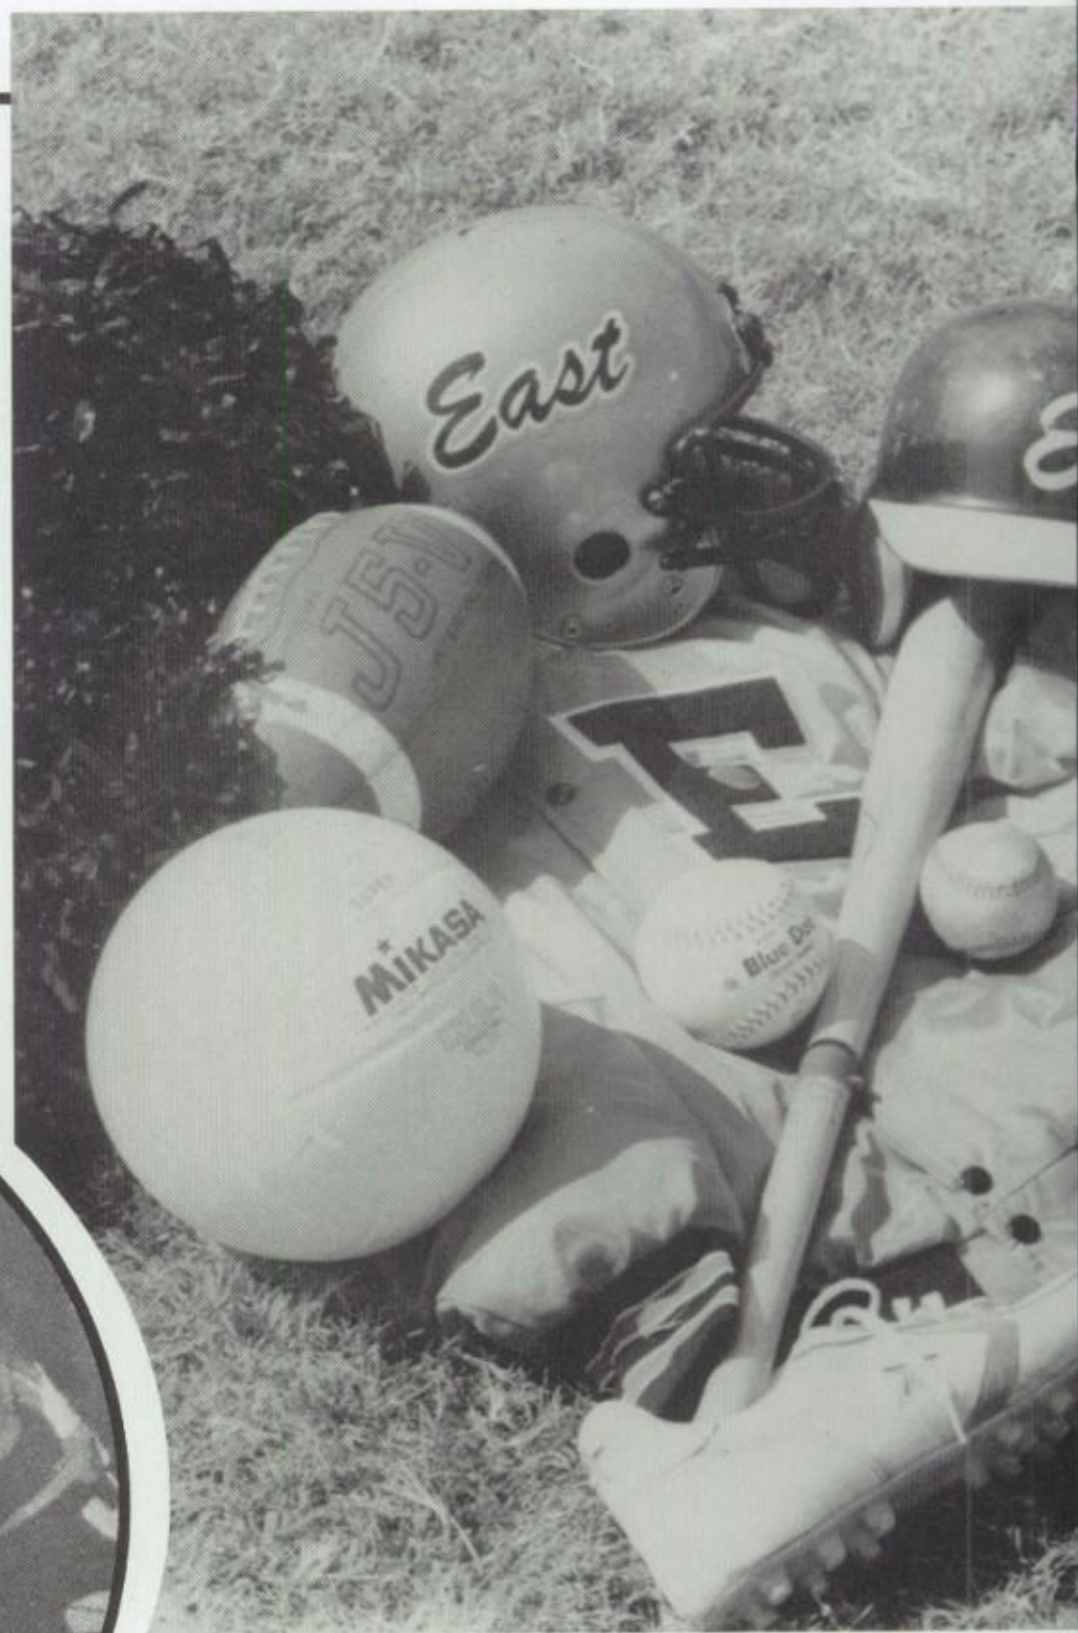

Athletic Boosters Evelyn Weisner — Treasurer, Glenda Westmoreland — President, Lu Hepler — Secretary.

PTA

The purpose of the PTA was to be involved in the school by getting the parents, teachers and students working together. They tried very hard to get more participation from the parents and students. The PTA had a bake sale at the Christmas parade to raise money for the Jr.-Sr. breakfast. President Barbara McColl said the sale was a very big success. The PTA planned to hold a Drug Abuse program to teach parents how to recognize if their child was on drugs and also how to deal with this problem. They also developed information to help parents help their children in post high school education. Officers were President — Barbara McColl, Vice President — Dottie Langford, Secretary — Annie Freeman, Treasurer — Emily Walker, Membership chairman — Vicki Westmoreland and Delores Leonard, and Publicity chairman — Ruby Elliott.

The 1982 football season started off with a win over North Stanley, but the Golden Eagles lost the next seven games. The Eagles put their best into their plays, but were unable to come up with a win. The Eagles did, however, spring back with a 20-6 homecoming victory over Denton.

The Eagles fought all season but could not come up with the right combination of offense and defense. It was a very disappointing season for Coach Hannon, because he had felt that this year East would be one of the teams to look out for in the CCC. This was one of the most talented teams at East in several years, but the Eagles lacked skilled people in certain areas.

The Eagles worked as hard on Oct. 29 as they had on Aug. 1. They never gave up until the last buzzer sounded and the last seconds ticked off the clock. Everyone gave it their best. The Eagles' main problem was that they were killing themselves with mental mistakes. Had they eliminated these, the season might have been better.

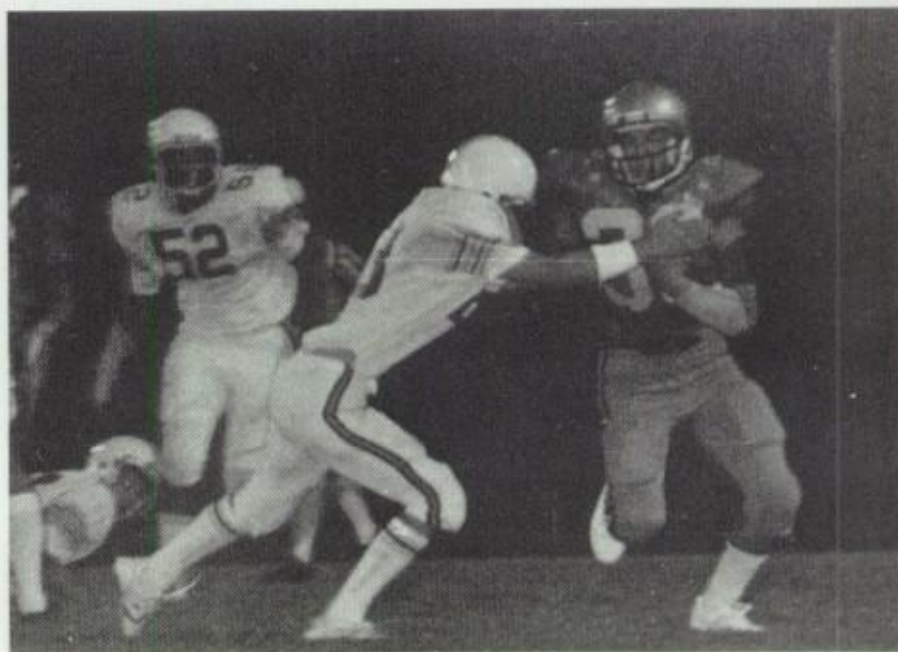

All in all, the season was somewhat of a let-down. The Eagles finished the season with an overall record of 2-8 and a conference record of 1-6.

As August 1st drew near, the junior varsity football team prepared for a successful season. They practiced hard with little reward, for they knew experience was reward enough. The J.V.'s came away with a record of 5-3-1. Many key players returned from last year, and many promising ones showed their ability to be a J.V. Eagle. This combination made the season a successful one. With experience behind them, each member now hopes to abandon their J.V. jersey to earn a position on the Mighty Eagle varsity squad next year.

OVER HILL, OVER DALE.

Cross-country running was a strenuous, time-consuming activity in which many people participated. Each person of the team remembered all the hard work and sweat that was put into competing while representing East Davidson. How vivid were the memories of all those days after school racing not against each other but against something faster — the clock.

After many days of hard work, the East Davidson cross-country team was ready for its first meet at Ledford, in which they placed second out of four teams. East's team held a steady second in the subsequent three meets. Falling out of stride, East placed third in the fifth meet. Inspired to do better by their coach, Mr. Scott, they placed first in their sixth meet. Next, the team was faced with a county meet in which East placed fourth. All of these meets were leading up to the final meet deciding who was the best out of eight schools. East came in with a winning position of second place.

The chosen to the all-conference team from East Davidson were Tim Baumgartner, Chris Sprinkle, and Bill Workman. What an impressive first season!

With three starters returning from last year's second place conference team, many felt East would again be a contender for the conference championship.

Under the leadership of Seniors Sonya Lambe, Leigh Hunt, and Susan Collins, the team finished 15-2 for the season and second in the conference. This impressive record earned them a bid in the State 2-A Play-offs.

Optimistic going into the match against Kannapolis, the mood soon changed to gloom. Countless mental errors made the Lady Eagles fall 14-16, 15-13, 10-15 to shatter their dreams of a state championship. Disheartened, the team returned to Thomasville, with a spark of hope in their eyes focused on next year's season.

J.V.'S PLAY WITH PRIDE

This year's varsity volleyball team was accompanied by the all new junior varsity team. The J.V.s worked hard to learn and develop the skills and composure so essential to volleyball. Even though some of the girls were inexperienced, they began to learn about plays and sportsmanship, thanks to the friendliness and leadership of a former player herself, Miss Cindy Samuel.

Volleyball may be considered a "no-sweat" sport but what most of the school did not realize was that practice was long and it began in the hottest part of summer, August.

The junior varsity finished their season with a record of 8-6. This hard work and dedication will pay off because these girls are the varsity of the years to come.

GOLDEN EAGLES

What does dedication, determination, and unity add up to? The golden Eagle items of victory, of course. Our proud Eagle girls practiced hard and long to assure themselves of triumph. This pre-season work paid off with a win of the season openers and this enthusiasm never died. Up, up, and away the Eagles went into their tremendous season.

The seniors, who led the girls into their schedule of games, were Leigh Hunt, Sonya Lambe, and Jill Greene. Also Kim Barker and Lisa Ward provided the guidance and inspiration of the team.

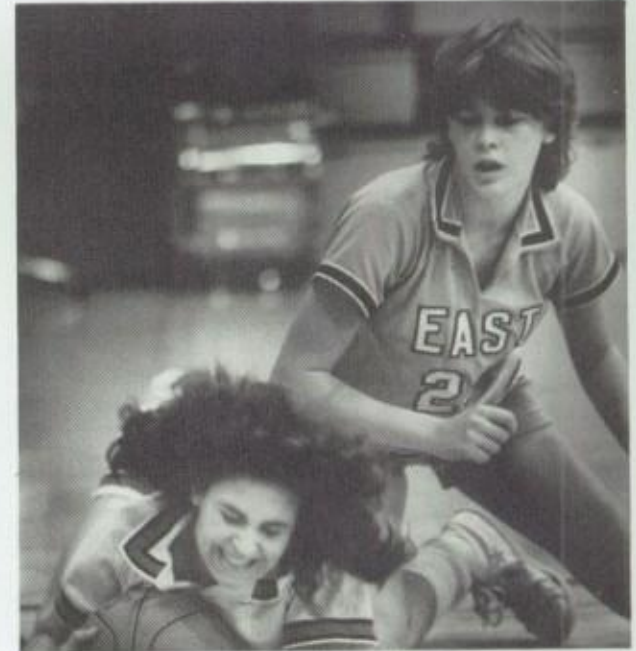

The main lady, who gave her leadership and knowledge of the game which was a valuable asset to the team's record, was none other than Mrs. Wanda Cline. She made them work up only to their ability and then a little bit more.

Through thick and thin the team pulled together and although the season wasn't entirely successful, they stilled emerged successful in our hearts.

EAGLES GOT THE FUNK . . .

What could two dollars buy these days? Not very much. For some, it could buy something valueless and simple. For others it would pay for the admission to a Golden Eagle basketball game; and, from the fans reactions, it was well well worth the two dollars spent.

The dribble of the basketball, those spectacular dunks and lay-ups, and those ever so tense moments at the free throw line added to the excitement.

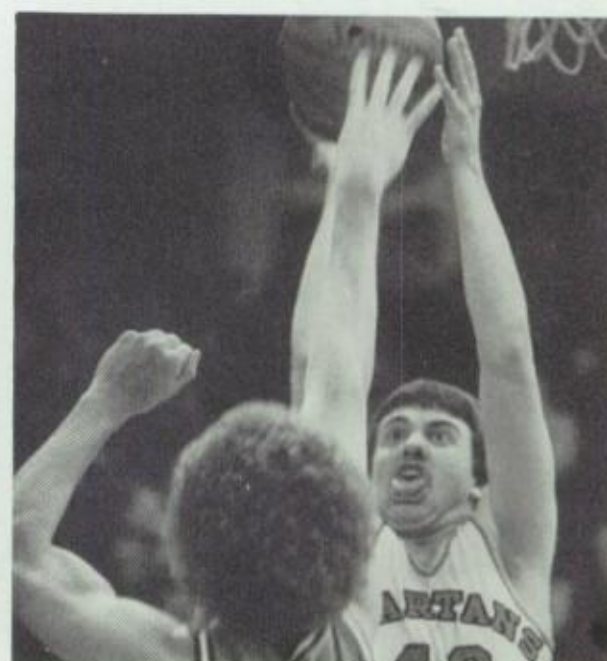

Our varsity boys basketball team's season wasn't flawless, but all agreed that they got their money's worth. The Senior Eagles — Chris Doby, Eric Johnson, Darren Smith, and Chris Sprinkle — helped to lift the Golden Eagles off the ground. With the efforts of Roger Lucas and Rob Moore, they looked forward to a winning season in 1983.

Destination — 2 points.

1982-83 Schedule

The beginning of the season started with vigorous training as the J.V. boys basketball team began practice. This year the boys J.V. team was the highlight of the underclassmen, as there was no girl's team. There were many outstanding players and most held a promising future varsity team. Coach Workman felt this season depended a lot on how well our team could play defense as well as offense. He, in addition, felt that the defense was behind the offense. He was confident that this year would be a winning season.

MAT MEN

The 1982-83 Golden Eagle Wrestling Team started off its season with much excitement. They participated in the North Davidson High School Tournament finishing in seventh place overall. The Eagles returned home and became the victor over their first two opponents. Eastern Randolph and Rockingham County. Under the leadership of a new coach, Keith Tobin, and assistant coach, Mark Conner, these young men had a new outlook and a new enthusiasm toward wrestling.

Two outstanding sophomores, Keith Jarrett and Russell Hallman, proved themselves on the mat by bringing home numerous wins. Senior team captains, David Freeman, Andy Ferguson, and Nathan Rackard, led the Eagle grapplers over many tough opponents during the season.

East Davidson students and fans were extremely proud of their "Mat Men" and all the hard work and dedication that they put forth. In return the wrestlers showed their appreciation to the fans by having an excellent season!

As the end of the 1981-82 school year approached, it came time for the new varsity cheerleaders to be selected. After tedious tryouts and tiresome practices, it was announced who would be representing our school as the '82-'83 cheerleaders. The squad consisted of nine cheerleaders and two mascots.

This past summer, the varsity squad traveled to U.N.C.-Charlotte for a National Cheerleading Association camp. At this camp, the young ladies learned cheers, chants, jumps, and tumbling that helped them to be a better squad. They won a spirit stick, two superior ribbons and two excellent ribbons. Not only did the eleven girls improve their cheering, but they also grew to know each other and their outstanding sponsors, Cathi Cranford and Janice Barber, in a special way.

This year's junior varsity teams were supported by a fantastic squad of J.V. cheerleaders. These girls cheered through thick and thin, praying that their team would win. They served the school well, improving with each win and loss. The two sponsors that were always around, Sherry Litwin and Myra Rogers, aided the nine girls in every possible way.

Over the summer, the J.V. squad attended a Golden Eagle cheerleading camp at U.N.C.-Charlotte. Their many awards included three excellent ribbons, first place in tumbling exercises, four spirit sticks, and a spirit megaphone.

THE EAGLETTES "GET DOWN ON IT!"

Below: Hard work during practice is the Eaglelettes' key to success.

The football and basketball season would not have been the same without the talented Eaglelettes. These girls showed their spirit by dancing during halftime at football and basketball games. However, the girls did not limit themselves just to this. Pep rallies, parades, and homecoming events were just a few of the things in which the Eaglelettes participated. They worked hard after school, but the long hours paid off as one could see.

The girls agreed that the success of the Eaglelettes was attributed to the guidance of Miss Betty Payne, who served as their sponsor and "special friend."

With the experience and leadership of their chief Lisa Pierce, and co-chief Julie Sykes, the loyal dedication of managers Ocia Anderson and Kathy Kendrick, and especially the closeness between the girls, it could be said that this year was definitely the best ever for the Eaglelettes.

ALL THAT JAZZ

After marching season was over, people thought that there would not be any more band exhibitions, but that wasn't so at EDHS. For the past seven years, East has had a little bit of rhythm and soul, for parts of the Marching Eagles furthered their talents by using them in the Jazz Band.

They performed on many occasions for such schools as Brown Jr. High, Pilot, and Fairgrove. They also made a grand performance for East, which the school greatly appreciated.

This year singing in the chorus wasn't just another elective; it was an unique work of art. The sixteen girls and four boys who made up the chorus performed on many occasions. They also made an appearance in which they sang their way into the hearts of their fellow students. This year's Christmas concert wouldn't have been the same without the musical harmony and musical talents of these tremendous students. These ladies and gentlemen practiced each day of the school year just to help us relax, enjoy, and see the real beauty of life.

SPINNING IN CIRCLES

In the spring of last year, twenty girls were selected to represent East Davidson as the flag corps. Among these twenty were twelve new members who had no marching experience. Crystal Leonard and Tina Byerly were chosen as chief and co-chief, respectively, to lead this young battalion. They went to work, at their new positions, to try and perfect the squad. During the summer, entire days were spent in the parking lot, twirling until they could twirl no more. These practices were extra to the weekly sessions held with the rifles. The rifle squad was headed by Hope McLe-more, chief, and Lora Smith, co-chief. They consisted of eight members, which included no seniors. In the middle of July, the squads traveled to Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S.C., where they attended a camp. With aching muscles and swollen hands, they trudged through a week of routines, HATEFUL instructors, and waking at 6:00 a.m. The camp experience may have been rough, but it enabled the squads to make new friends and, most important-ly, learn new and better moves. It allowed them to entertain the student body with a routine to "Pac-Man Fever" that everyone enjoyed and helped them to win coveted awards such as two first-place trophies for the rifles and a second place trophy for the flags.

Considering the situation of the new flag squad with twelve new members, they did an outstanding job this year. For the rifles, the trophies speak for themselves. All of this could have never been accomplished without the superior leadership of the advi-sor, Mrs. Joselyn Smith, or without the help of their managers, Joan Fritts, Jenni-fer Floyd, and Bryan McColl.

Here's to the best year ever!!!!

MAKING MEMORIES

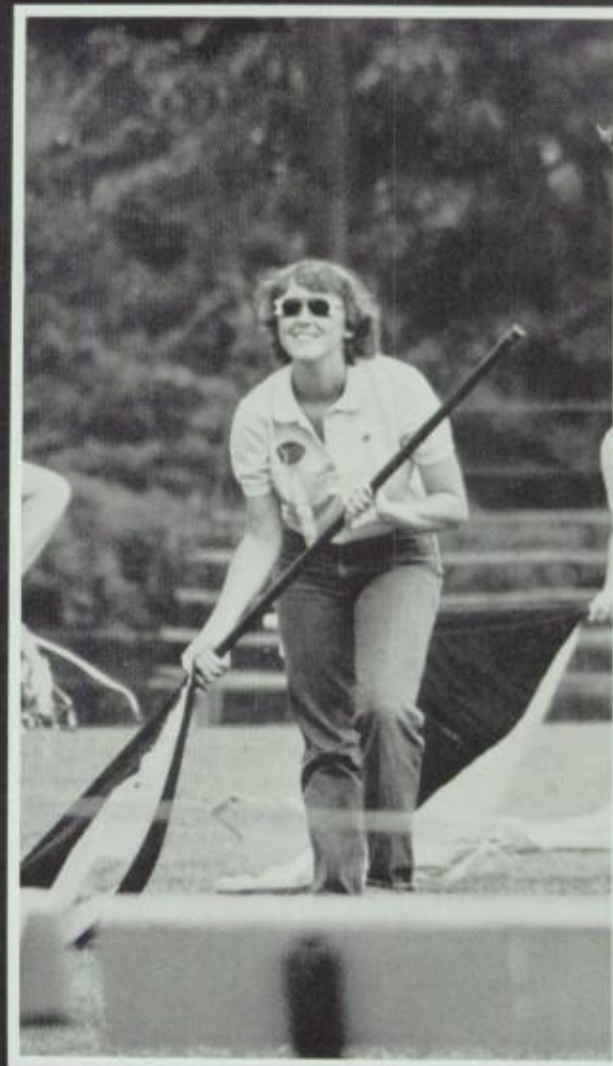

What do girls in the specialty corps do to occupy their time together when they're not twirling flags or rifles? Try sleeping, having shaving cream fights, eating, and playing practical jokes for an educated guess. While the girls were at Winthrop, everyone knew which rooms they were in — the ones that had shaving cream all over the doors. When bubble bath was discovered in the floor of the shower, everyone knew who did it. They were also the ones who took every cube the ice machine could turn out. Luckily, these pranksters were never caught committing the crime. If they did get caught, it didn't matter because the laughs outnumbered the convictions.

Roaming the halls during sixth period, one can always find a member of the specialty corps. Walking into Mrs. Smith's room on the wrong day, one could also find a party going on. These girls find something to celebrate every week, just so they can stuff their faces. After pigging out, it's off to the gym for aerobic dancing to work off all the fat.

THERE'S MAGIC IN OUR MUSIC

As the summer sun began to fade away, the parking lot in front of the gym, was filled with a dedicated group of people — The Marching Eagles. This year's band was filled with a different kind of spirit. They knew what they wanted, and they were determined to get it.

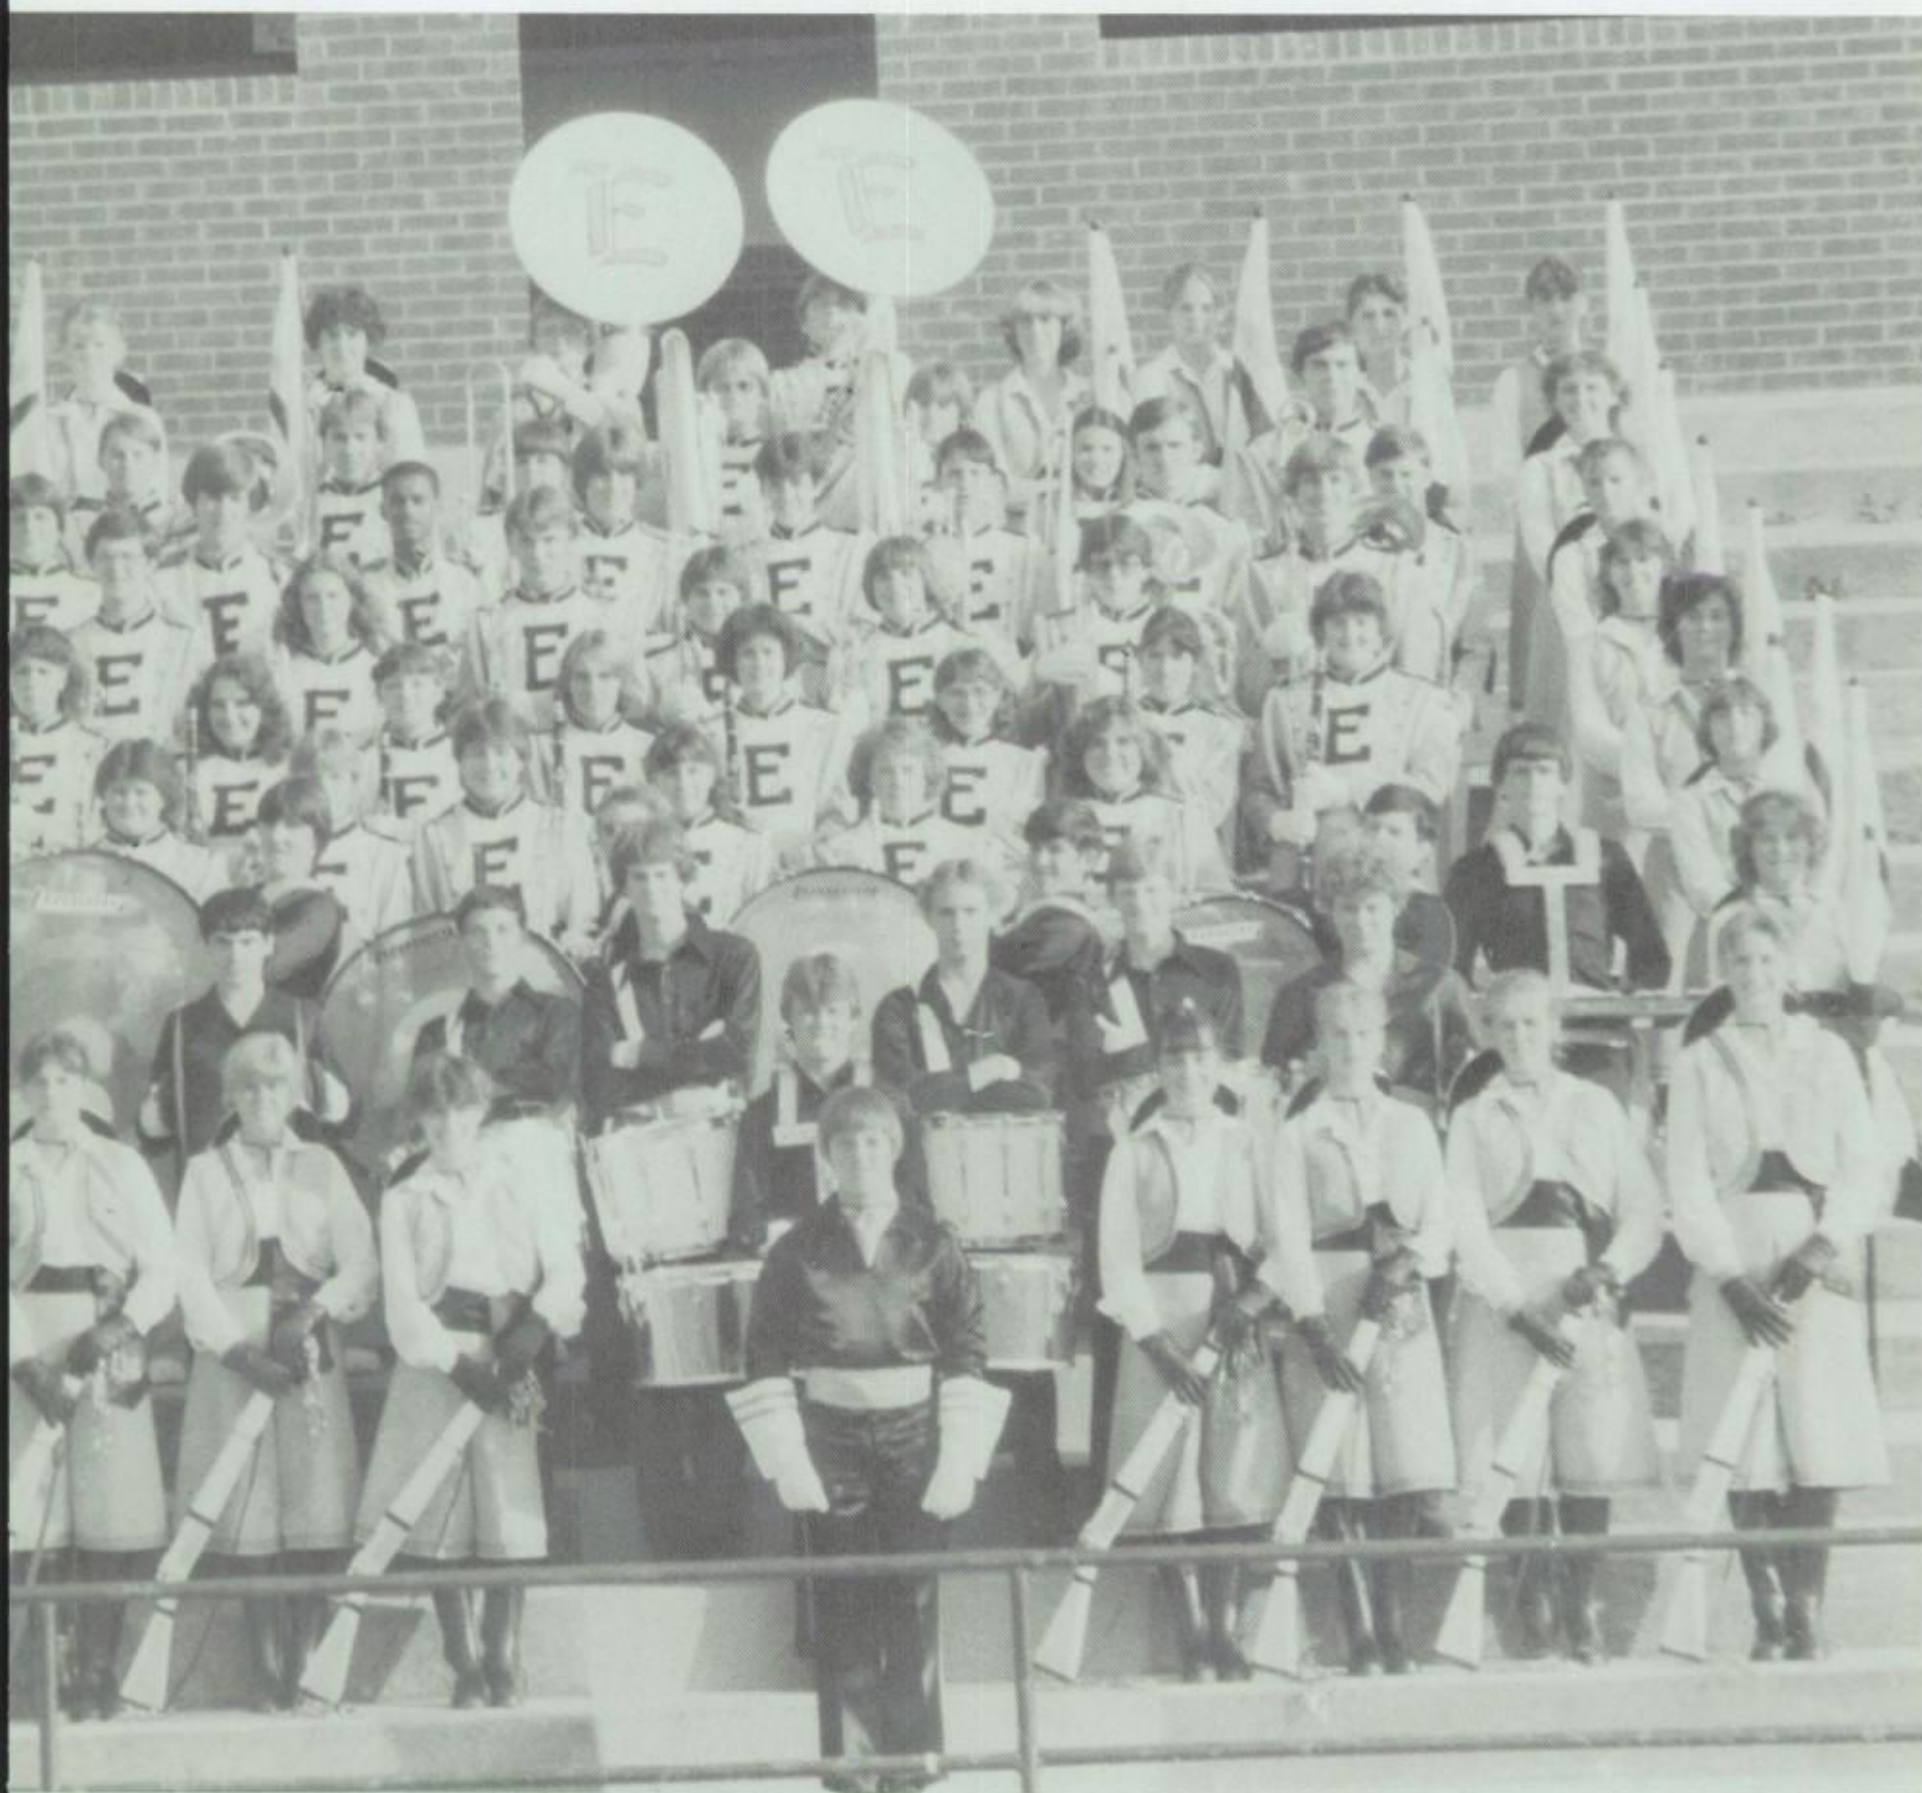

The first long week of fundamentals dragged by accompanied by anticipation to start working on the half-time show. By the end of August, the band was ready for its first performance at the first football game of the season. As the season progressed, the band turned its show into a glittery spectacular. They burst onto the field with a snappy precision of "Pressure Cooker." After the powerful finish of the opening number, the colorguard and the drum line were given the spotlight. The hit was "Dueling Banjos," and the visual spectacular was a flag toss which brought screams of excitement from the audience. After the flags stopped floating, Vonda Wright emerged with swinging hips to the beat of the drums, a solo which led into "Sophisticated Ladies," a risque number that could brighten even the dampest of spirits. "Open Arms", the subtle song with a mighty ending, followed concluding the presentation.

The Marching Eagles took their talent to three competitions. The first was held at Northwest Guilford on October 2, where the band received a superior rating and captured several awards, including Best Drum Major, Best Percussion, Best Rifles, Best General Effect, and second place Band of the Day. On October 16th, they traveled to Western Alamance, where once more they received a superior rating plus Best Drum Major, 2nd Place Percussion, 2nd Place Flag Corps, Best Rifles, and the second place Band of the Day. The journey to Forbush High School on October 30th also proved to be rewarding. The band again received a superior rating in addition to Best Percussion and second place Band of the Day. (They demolished Thomasville's Scarlet Regiment by twenty-seven points.)

After the long practices, lectures from Mr. Kiefer, and fall-outs at competition, the band finally proved once and for all that they were a part of East Davidson and a winning part at that. They made the season the first perfect one ever by being dedicated and having faith in what they were doing. Now the world knows that they are super, they are grand, they're the Eagles' Marching Band.

UNITED FOR THE BETTERMENT OF MANKIND

Paintings . . . by Picasso???

The National Art Honor Society gave the members a more in-depth view of art and the way it works.

To be eligible for membership, one must have been in attendance for a period of one semester in the school. Sophomore, junior, and senior students were only eligible. They had to maintain a B average in art. The National Art Honor Society of East Davidson consisted of eight members. The officers of the club were President — Amy Springer, Vice-President — Mary Phillips, Secretary — Janine Gallimore, and Treasurer — Cindy Clinard.

The National Art held and supported several activities throughout the year. Members attended current displays of art work and art festivals. They also demonstrated art work and taught in elementary schools, and sponsored parties for underprivileged children.

Lake Road Drivers

The East Davidson High School bus drivers took great responsibilities in getting students safely from their homes to school and vice versa. Evan Myers, our school's assistant principal, made sure that there was always a capable driver on each bus route. Before these students became bus drivers, they had to pass a special course given to them to be positively sure that they could handle a forty-pupil capacity vehicle safely and efficiently. The EDHS bus drivers deserved a great amount of recognition for their efforts and success.

CHECKMATE!

The Chess and Backgammon Club was established this year. The club organized many tournaments within the club itself. Mr. Bill Revelle, advisor of the Chess and Backgammon Club, believes that the inner-club matches will advance the club members' ability to play chess and backgammon. Even though the club has no officers, they do have a committee to conduct matches and tournaments.

Woodcraftsmen

The Industrial Arts Club was an organization established for Industrial Arts students. The club was founded in an effort to promote interest in and explore the occupations of industries such as textiles, power technology, electronics, and woodworking. The club sponsored field trips to various industrial plants each year.

The club also sponsored an annual pig picking open to all members and their immediate family. The club officers for 1982-83 were as follows: President — Jim Rogers; Vice President — Kurt Richey; Secretary — Patricia Botcher, Michelle Plummer, and Sandi Surratt; and Treasurer — Steve Worley.

Jr.-Sr. Einsteins

The purpose of the Jr.-Sr. Science Club was to give students who were interested in science the opportunity to expand their knowledge in science and to share interest. The club actively participated in school activities throughout the year. During Homecoming, they worked many long hours designing their float featuring the ever popular PAC-MAN. The club took several science oriented field trips throughout the year, including a visit to the zoo, to the Discovery Place in Charlotte, and an outdoor field trip studying wild flowers. They also sponsored a fund raising event to buy an animal for the North Carolina Zoological Center. The year was topped off with their participation in the annual May Day. Their sponsor, Mrs. Evelyn Allen, worked many long hours with the club and planned the trips for the club.

Straight "A" Eagles

The National Beta Club is an honored and elite group of East Davidson. The 1982-83 Beta Club held its annual candle-light induction ceremony on October 28 and twenty-one new members were tapped in. The Beta Club carries a tradition of involving itself in various charitable projects — ones which aid the needs of the school and community. The major project on the agenda was the yearly Christmas party for the under-privileged children in the area. This event was special in the hearts of the club members, because the effect of generosity showed on the faces of these children. Other plans for the year included the seasonal talent show and the selling of hot dogs at May Day in order to raise money for senior scholarships. The Beta Club also traveled to North Moore on December 7 to the District Beta Convention. Last year the trip was a day of distinction for East Davidson, as the club was presented with the award of District Beta Club of the Year.

Under the leadership of President — Bob Bowser, Vice President — Shanda Hedrick, Secretary-Treasurer — Crystal Leonard, Reporter — Terryee Abbott, and Advisor — Reida Snyder, the club became an active part of East Davidson.

To show their spirit during Homecoming, enthusiastic members gathered in the basement of Chris Miller's home to design and build their float. The theme was "Eagles Get the Red Out," fashioned after Visine. During the pep rally, the French Club proudly accepted second place in the float competition.

On St. Patrick's Day, they surprised the residents of Davidson Nursing Home with a party. Along with refreshments, the members led a sing-a-long and talked with the senior citizens.

The programs throughout the year ranged from having guest speakers, to learning French customs.

THE WORK

On The Job

The philosophy of East Davidson High School Industrial Cooperative Training Program was to provide students with the opportunity to learn a valuable skill in an occupation of sufficient stature, to justify the student's time and the credit given by the school, and to help fit them into the society in which they will find themselves upon graduation.

The Industrial Cooperative Training Program promoted a closer relationship between business in the community and school. This developed good student work habits and attitudes.

The vocational program helped to develop student interest in both the academic and specific skill levels.

NG CLASS

9 To 5

This year the FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) had an interesting list of activities planned. They had guest speakers from various businesses in the area to help them learn about our free enterprise system and how new technology was being used at his or her place of business. They had a terrific turnout with a total of forty-eight members. There were many things a group this size could do and learn.

The FBLA had some very important purposes. The FBLA organization sought to develop competent, aggressive business leadership; strengthen the confidence of young men and women in themselves and their work; and to create more interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations. The club encouraged members to improve the home and community, develop character, train for useful citizenship, and foster patriotism.

The members of the FBLA have a sense of pride and respect for their club and sponsors. They were all very proud to be included in the FBLA.

The Speech Club gave each member a chance to learn how to stand in front of others and to be judged for their speaking ability. As the year progressed, each member increased in his/her ability to deliver a speech in front of a group of people.

Throughout the year on Fridays and Saturdays, the Speech and Debate Club attended tournaments. During these tournaments there were at least five rounds of judging. A group which was selected from those who had the highest scores in the preliminary rounds advanced further into competition.

Officers of the Speech and Debate Club were President — Jeff Snyder, Secretary — Constance Lewis, Treasurer — Matt Sandifer, and Reporter — Bob Bowser.

SPECIAL EAGLES DOING SPECIAL THINGS

Starting Brand-New

The Robert M. Nations Club was named in honor of a teacher who taught the Resource Class for over twelve years at East Davidson. The purpose of the club was to encourage enthusiasm among students. This was in order to increase curiosity, confidence and expectations. Projects included several field trips, including an ice skating expedition. The club had an approximate enrollment of twenty-seven members and was sponsored by Ms. Sherry Litwin. They also won first place in the Homecoming float contest.

The 1982-83 Spanish Club consisted of many hard working individuals who were proud to say, "Yo hablo español." The club's main objective was to encourage the use of the Spanish language in everyday life. The club officers played an important part in making the club as successful as it was. These were Greg Myers — President, Lisa Worley — Vice President, Kelly Ball — Secretary, Alice Phillips — Treasurer, and Jim Plummer — Reporter. Some of the club's activities included entering a float in the Homecoming Parade, participating in May Day, and sponsoring a scholarship for a very lucky senior.

All twenty-two members were required to have at least a "C" average and planned to attend college. The officers of the FTA were President — Jennifer Myers, Vice-President — Brenda Lane, Secretary — Angie Nobles, Treasurer — Sharon Troxler, and Reporter — Christie Black.

Pickin' & Grinnin'

The Pickin' & Grinnin' Club was organized this year by Mr. Brown and Mr. Hannon. The purpose of the club was to allow students who were interested in music to expand their knowledge in music and express their talents. The club had many talented students with instruments and singing. The club gave a concert in the spring and also performed at the talent show. The club played both country and top 40 music. Officers of the club were Scott Rudisill — President, Andy Ferguson — Vice-President, James Haney — Treasurer, and Christy Moody — Secretary.

Letter Perfect

The Monogram Club consisted of the athletes at East Division who lettered in a varsity sport. It was an honor to be a member of the Monogram Club.

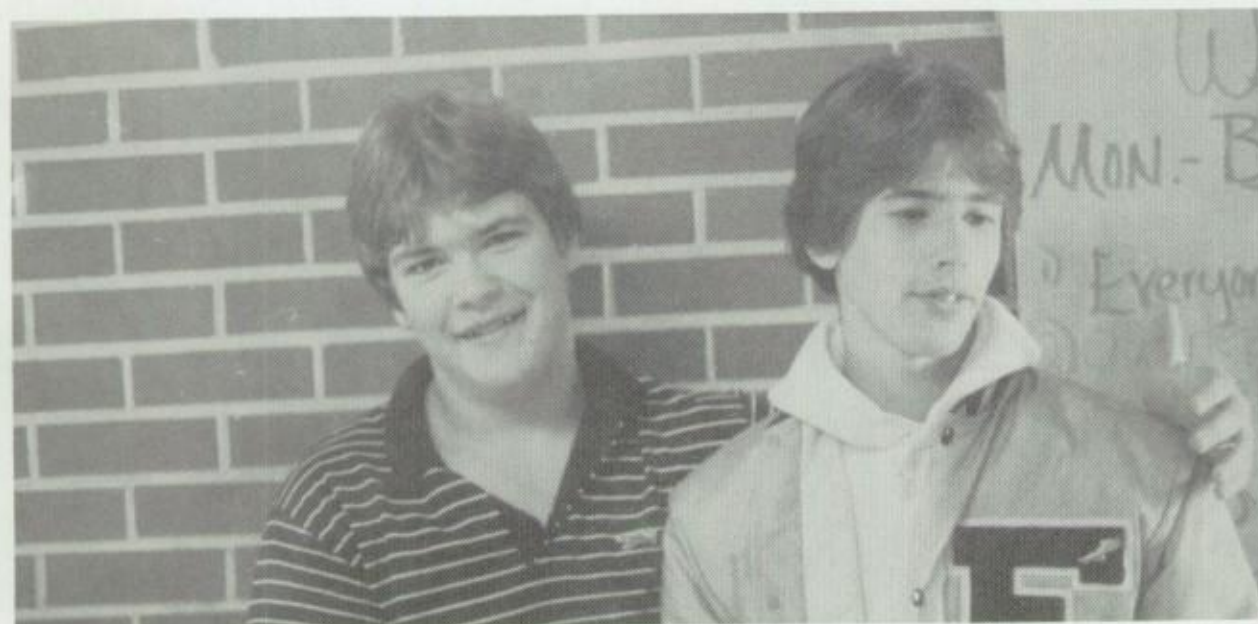

Members of the Monogram Club needed to maintain high standards of sportsmanship, acknowledge the efforts of steadfast participants of the athletic programs, increase the interest and spirit of the students in the sporting activities, and generate funds for the purchase of athletic awards and athletics in general.

The Monogram Club sponsored candy sales, the Homecoming parade, a sausage and cheese sale, May Day, a softball tournament, and the student faculty basketball game.

The Guiding Light

The Guidance Club was organized by Mrs. Debbie Chance to promote positive thinking among students.

A few select students were chosen by Mrs. Chance to participate in the club. The students she chose were students she felt had untapped potential and were capable of functioning smoothly as an organized group.

One of the goals of the Guidance Club was to promote a lasting friendship among the members. Another goal was to help each member to bring out their full talent.

A member of the club, Jimmy Cambell, was quoted as saying, "The Club is better than any other club, because there are a lot of good friends that pull together and help one another out."

Whenever a member had a problem, or just wanted someone to talk to, there was always someone available to help work things out. There was a closeness in the Guidance Club that was very rarely seen. Everybody in the club had a special communication with everyone else.

A special project for the club was to raise money to build a rain cover for the smoking court. The shelter had long been needed.

The money was raised through bake sales, donations, and other forms of income.

"We feel that all individuals in society need closeness, true friendship, and communication. We encourage all students to work to obtain this goal," said Mrs. Chance.

STIRRING UP NEW IDEAS

Home Leaders

FHA members attended the Charlotte Southern Living Show during the year. They were usually found throughout the year cooking, sewing, taking care of children, or helping others in a time of need. FHA met once a month to bring forth their ideas on different items such as a float for the Homecoming parade, party, Halloween treats, Christmas parties or caroling, and even making their own goodies. At Christmas time the club members drew names for a Secret Santa to get in the Christmas mood. The FHA members put forth a great effort to be the best homemakers of America. The officers this year consisted of: President — Sandra Ward, Vice President — Teresa Kinley, Secretary — Candy Briles, and Treasurer — Cindy Coffey.

Future Scientists

The Freshmen-Sophomore Science Club met once a month. Each member learned about either biology, chemistry, or other sciences. They tried different experiments and worked problems or equations that took longer than regular class time. There was always something new to discuss.

This year the Freshmen-Sophomore Science Club made a homecoming float for the Homecoming parade. They received a 3rd place ribbon for their float of a dissected Raider.

Making Good Times Last

Before school began, the annual staff started preparing for the 1983 Claw. Selling ads was a regular summer routine, but everyone on the staff knew it was a required task. When school finally started, the members of the Claw Staff began working on the annuals.

Under the guidance of Reida Snyder, sophomores, juniors, and seniors drew layouts, wrote copy, and struggled to meet deadlines. At Christmas they make a special trip to Duff's to give themselves a break in a "rush-rush" routine.

Future Journalists

The Newspaper Staff worked hard during the year striving to be a liason between the students and the activities surrounding them. The staff printed an issue of The Golden Quill each month under the excellent supervision of Reida Snyder.

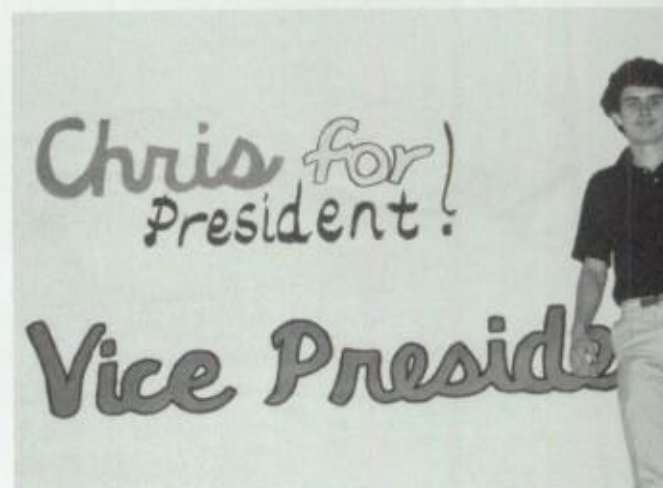

Members of the staff were chosen from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. They had to meet certain qualifications before they were chosen. Journalists of the staff must possess journalistic talents and have a minimum of an 85 grade point average in English. There were interviews and articles to be written, graphed, typed and laid-out by members of the staff.

The Golden Quill Staff kept busy by reporting school news, as well as, the news in the surrounding community. They sponsored many school activities such as a Halloween Dress-up contest, and they sold Christmas stocking messages and Valentine messages.

Randy, Well, first of all, it's been great knowing you these past 4 years. We've had some really great times together. I know that we had a few bad ones too. Especially when we were going together. But that's all behind us now and it's going to be good times only from now on. Each year that we've known each other has brought us closer and closer together. And it means a lot to know that I had someone like you as one of my "bestest" friends in the whole world. I wish you all the luck in the world next year-and in all the years to come. Always remember-

of your life should also be a most knowledgeable one.

The diamond you select should be as brilliant and beautiful as the dreams you share today. You want it to be enjoyed for a lifetime.

That's why you should choose knowledgeably and never compromise on the beauty and value of the diamond you buy, regardless of its size. You should look for a diamond that's been cut and polished to bring out all of its natural brilliance and beauty, one that meets the exacting standards that have been established as ideal. These are called ideal cut diamonds.

Why is cut so important? Because with diamonds, unlike colored gems, beauty depends on light reflection.

When a diamond is ideally cut, its 58 facets are placed in precise relation to the others. They act as tiny mirrors, constantly capturing and reflecting light and bouncing it back through the top of the stone in a brilliant blaze. A diamond cut too shallow to make it look bigger lets some of the light "leak out" through the bottom and appears watery. One cut too deep lets light "leak" through the sides and appears black in the center when compared to an ideal cut diamond.

Like Ideal Cut Diamonds ensure you of getting the most beauty and value for your investment.

As we approached the end of the year, we started thinking about all the roads we have yet to travel. We will face more difficult problems which will be harder to find the right solution. Even as we leave the paved road to the dirt roads that we have not yet seen, we will never forget the memories of the golden friendships, ballgames, dances, proms and even the tests we took. The seniors will look back to graduation and how they're glad to now be free. To the Class of '83, I wish you all luck next year in whatever you choose to do. Whether it be college, work, or getting married — good luck. To the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, I wish for you only happy times with the years ahead. I hope that everyone will enjoy their remaining years at East.

The 1982-83 Claw Staff tried to capture many of these good times. We made quite a few changes this year, and we hope that everyone enjoys SOLID GOLD.

God Bless You All,

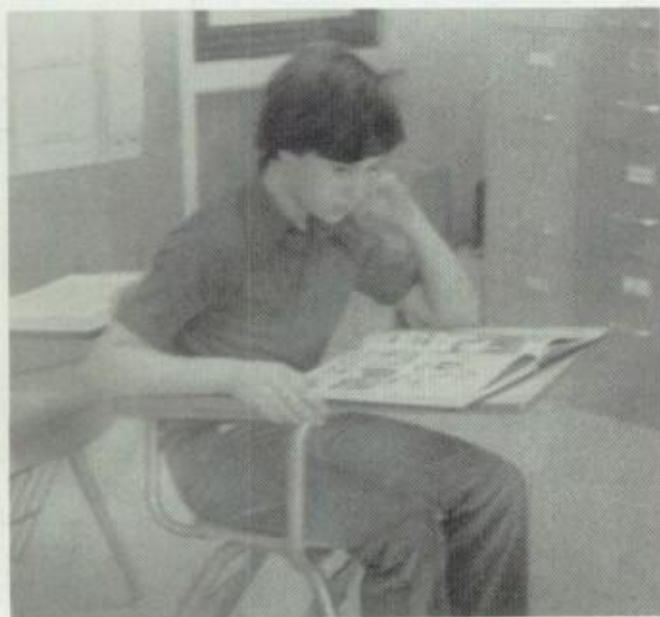

Christy Moody
